A house isn't a home until...

it's been repaired, repainted,
re-stained, re-plastered, restored,
refinished, resurfaced, re-floored,
re-papered, re-piped, redirected,
reupholstered, re-bricked, re-tiled,
remodeled, rehabbed, redecorated,
reseeded, re-sodded, replanted, repaved, re-shingled, re-roofed,
rewired, re-carpeted, re-sided,
refinanced and re-named

“Ours” .

Pope Leo is a confirmed White Sox fan. I'm a Cubs fan. I have friends who are Sox fans. After the 2025 All-Star, game the last place Sox win 5 of the next 6 games. I decided to have a little fun with my friends.

(For the record, I believe in the separation of Church and Plate. I take exception to teams named the Padres and the Angels. The Devil should be given his due with teams named the Satans or the Beelzebubs. Think of it. Beelzebubs Bobblehead Day! THAT sounds like fun!)

White Sox Call Up Third Base Coach From Rectory

White Sox owners are taking a leap of faith and called up Third Base Coach Bishop Pietro Pastimé from their farm team the Baltimore Bishops to resurrect the team in the second half of the season. Pastimé has been with the Baltimore Bishops for 6 years, during which they have graced the Baseball Is A Religion World Series with four appearances and 2 championships. Although he still uses Latin signs, the Sox front office pray his enthusiasm will convert the lost souls on the team. Pastimé says his philosophy is "God works the count in mysterious ways." When asked about his approach to improving the Sox' last place standings, he said "What would Jesus do? And maybe Connie Mack."

A statement from the Vatican claims there is no connection between the MLB and the Catholic Church despite the Pope publicly acknowledging he's a Chicago White Sox fan and the Cardinals playing a pick up game during their lunch breaks in St. Peter's Square. It is worth noting that 4 baseball diamonds can fit in the Square.

We will follow this story should a miracle develop.

On this day in History....

1890 – Daughters of the American Revolution organize, much to the chagrin of the Mothers of the American Revolution who couldn't get organized.

1944 – The film adaptation of "Laura" premieres in New York City and becomes a film noir classic. The screenplay writers admit "it was a shot in the dark to shoot a film about a shot in the dark shot in the dark".

1971 – John Lennon releases an iconic song about hope and peace. It peaks at #3 on the Billboard Hot 100 chart. Critics write "Who would have imagined that?" To which John replies "Me."

1974 – President Gerald Ford establishes the Nuclear Regulatory Commission. It receives glowing reviews.

1975 – Saturday Night Live debuts on NBC. It is much more successful than Sunday Morning Dead which debuts the following morning.

2000 – Valentina Tereshkova, is awarded title Greatest Woman Achiever of the Century for making male astronauts ask for directions.

Reasons I Like The Dewey Decimal System

1. With a name like 'Dewey, how intimidating can a system be?
2. I don't have to worry about spelling errors with numbers.
3. It's easier to remember 10 numbers than 26 letters.
4. With more numbers to the right of the decimal than the left, call numbers my paycheck amount look bigger.
5. It's easier to be bilingual with numbers than words.
6. "Dewey Apostrophe System" doesn't roll off the tongue.
7. I can't judge a book by its cover but I can by its call number.
8. Call numbers don't include my mother's.
9. It uses Base 10. I was in class that day!
10. If I had a first name like Melvil, I'd want a system using my last name too.
11. 'Relative Index' allows classification of books by topic and family members by character flaws.
12. It must be efficient. The Library of Congress uses a different system. And look how inefficient Congress is!
13. It was an easy decision for libraries to choose the system. "Dewey or don't we?"
14. Library softball team jersey numbers can be retired without fear of running out of numbers.
